ITINERARY

Day 1: Dublin – Locke's Distillery – Clonmacnoise – Galway

You start your journey from Dublin, heading west through the County Kildare and Offaly. Your first stop is Locke's Distillery, the oldest licensed distillery in all of Ireland. You will have time to relax and taste a glass of their whiskey before continuing on your journey. You are headed to the banks of the River Shannon and the ruins of the abbey at Clonmacnoise. With its collection of old stone crosses, ancient churches and round towers, you will be awe-struck and gain a little insight into Ireland's spiritual past. For lunch, you will dine in a traditional Irish pub in one of the area's quaint villages before you head to Galway City, where you will spend your first night. You will have a chance to explore this lively city and taste some of the local fares at one of the many restaurants or bars.

Day 2: The Burren – Kilfenora – Cliffs of Moher – Killarney

After a good night's rest and a hearty breakfast, your day begins with a short drive along the coast to The Burren. You will have some time to explore the limestone pavements, see the rare flora and the Petrifying Springs. After you are finished exploring some of the beautiful formations in the National Park, you will head to Kilfenora, or the 'town of the crosses'. You will have a chance to visit the town's amazing ancient cathedral before stopping for a bite to eat. After lunch, you will head to the Cliffs of Moher. Watch the seabirds soar with the thermals and explore the award winning environmental exhibition along the trail. The 700 ft. drop to the crashing waves of the Atlantic Ocean is impressive. Your journey then moves through County Clare, passed the perfectly manicured grounds of its famous golf course on the way to the beautiful beach at Lahinch. It is here that you will board a ferry and cross the Shannon Estuary to the lakeside town of Killarney, your home base for the next three nights.

Day 3: Dingle Peninsula

Today, your journey allows you to explore the Dingle Peninsula, with the first stop being Inch Beach. Take a walk along the vast expanse of sand that stretches out into the Atlantic Ocean. Heading away from the beach, along winding roads, will lead you to the town of Dingle. Take a quick look, because your journey returns back to this colourful, quaint town. For now, however, you continue on towards Sleat Head, a place with ancient forts and prehistoric lodgings. Make sure to have your camera ready, as the panoramic views of the Blasket Islands, makes this a place to remember.

If the sun is shining, take a walk along the beaches and along the cliff top to get the full picture. Once your camera is full, you will be heading back towards Dingle, where you will be spending the remainder of the afternoon, exploring the town and tasting the local delicacies. In the evening, you will head back to Killarney and still have time to wander around in the National Park that surrounds the town.

Day 4: Ring of Kerry

After a hearty breakfast, you will be able to explore some of Ireland's beautiful scenery. First stop is Ireland's highest mountain, Carrauntoohil, where you will have time to take some pictures of its impressiveness. Continuing on, you will travel along the coastal road, following it through coastal towns, stopping at Portmagee for lunch. You may want to just have a quick snack and then venture onto the island of Valentia for a visit to the Skellig Experience, an excursion that will teach you about the ancient community of monks who made the outcrop of rocky islands their home. In the afternoon, you will visit Charlie Chaplin's home away from home at Waterville and gaze out at the amazing views on top of Coonmakista pass. Travelling down, you will head to Derrynane House and the breathtaking beauty of the surrounding gardens. From here, you will continue along the Ring, you will stop at Moll's Gap and the Ladies View. The Moll's Gap is an area made up of rocks formed of old red sandstone. Take a short walk to the Torc Waterfall and hear the stories of the ancient curse that created the waterfall before heading back to Killarney for the evening.

Day 5: Blarney Castle - Kilkenny - Dublin

On your last day of this tour, you will head back east through the mountains of West Cork and the Lee Valley until you reach Blarney Castle. Wander around the castle grounds and kiss the Blarney Stone. In the afternoon, you will journey to the town of Cahir and gaze upon the island castle in the River Suir before heading to Kilkenny. This busy city, with a towering castle, has riverside walks and a last chance to try Guinness before heading back on the road to Dublin.

We can arrange for accommodation in Dublin before and after this tour, to allow you time to explore this lively and historic city. Accommodation ranges from hostels, B&B/guesthouses, all categories of hotels up to castle stays. Please inquire.
